A WORD FROM THE FESTIVAL

Welcome to the 15th annual Resene Architecture & Design Film Festival. We're thrilled to invite you to explore our most ambitious programme yet, bringing together 23 feature films and five shorts, from nine countries.

Our programme is arranged into four thematic pods that guide the journey: Building for the Community—a focus on notable architects and their revolutionary public buildings, The Domestic Experience—exploring how designers are creating unique family homes and memories, Light as Form—a group of films that work with one of the earth's finest elements to craft their form, and Hand-crafted Worlds—a celebration of makers and world-builders that have refined their art with their hands.

Aotearoa's creative energy shines this year through films on artists Roy Good in Parallel Universe: The Art and Design of Roy Good and Neil Pardington in the short film Rimurapa by Neil Pardington. The Temple of Kinetic Resonance provides a fresh look at modernist filmmaker and kinetic artist Len Lye, The Time Traveller's Guide to Hamilton Gardens, an enchanting wander through the world-renowned Hamilton Gardens. These stories sit alongside international portraits that invite us inside the heads (and hearts) of exceptional female creatives such as Italian designer Cini Boeri, Lebanese-American painter and philosopher Etel Adnan, and Brazilian photographer Anna Mariani.

In a refreshing break from tradition, this year's programme also features a selection of historical and biographical dramas, offering a cinematic dramatisation of the lives of creatives and the complexities behind significant works. The Great Arch uncovers the remarkable true story of Danish architect Johan Otto von Spreckelsen, and the creation of Paris' monumental Grande Arche. Other highlights include a beautifully observed portrait of photographer Peter Hujar in Peter Hujar's Day, and a dreamlike imagining of surrealist artist Leonora Carrington in Leonora in the Morning Light.

Every year, certain films ignite an immediate spark with our team, and this year is no exception. Among our most anticipated films are Stardust: A Story of Love and Architecture, the extraordinary story of the architectural couple Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown, two of the most revered architects of the last century; Prickly Mountain and My Design / Build Life, a dive into Vermont's scrappy countercultural design/build movement; and The Harvard 5: A Story of Love, Architecture, and a Design Revolution, a richly drawn reflection on five ground-breaking architects and designers who helped define American modernism.

As always, this festival wouldn't be possible without the support of our partners. We extend our thanks to Resene, our long-standing Naming Rights Sponsor; our Gold Sponsors Colorsteel, Blum, Go Media and Walsh & Beck; our Bronze Sponsors ADNZ (Architectural Designers New Zealand), Art News and Inzide; and our film sponsors Brickworks and Allied Concrete. Your commitment to celebrating architecture and design stories on the big screen continues to help this festival thrive.

Enjoy the festival!

A WORD FROM RESENE

It's amazing what a difference you can make when you dare to be different and do what others say cannot be done.

We are endlessly inspired by the pioneers all around us, those who push ahead with new ideas and, despite the brick walls and obstacles that block their path, use a good dose of persistence and grit to find a way to make things happen.

As we celebrate our 80th birthday this year, we're reminded of our pioneering beginnings. In 1946, my grandfather, Ted Nightingale, created his own paint in a concrete mixer in his Wellington garage to solve a problem no existing product could. Despite being a builder rather than a paint maker, Ted persevered to first make a paint he could use on his own projects, then soon found he had a ready market of other builders clamouring to buy it. And thus, Resene was born.

Resene's story is reminiscent of so many others, where a seemingly small solution to a problem becomes a new way of doing things.

We often see this in the architecture and design space. Problems require creativity to solve them and in that creativity is genius. Not only is the problem solved, but the solution also opens up new possibilities for the future. All those things we think can't be done, there's most likely someone out there working on the solution.

We see buildings and landscapes reinvented, we see projects that not only look good but truly work to support those using the space, and we see projects that bring joy to the community, a much-needed beacon of hope and optimism in sometimes trying times. It's a reminder that creativity, passion, colour and enthusiasm have so much to offer us all.

Thanks to Rialto Cinemas, the Resene Architecture & Design Film Festival has overcome its own challenges along the way and now celebrates its 15th anniversary and its status as one of the largest architecture and design festivals in the world. It's been a privilege to be on the journey since the very first film was shown.

We are always delighted to be able to share this fantastic festival with you, in the hopes that it will inspire you as much as it always inspires us.

Enjoy!

Join them for a walk through the garden, observing the construction in harmony with the unhurried rhythms of nature.

THE TIME TRAVELLER'S GUIDE TO HAMILTON GARDENS

Director: Grant Sheehan

Masterminded by designer Peter Sergel and developed with council, community support, and sponsorship, Hamilton Gardens is now recognised as one of the great gardens of the world.

The viewer can travel backwards and forwards in time—moving from 16th century England, back to Song Dynasty China, Ancient Egypt, and the Italian Renaissance, and forward to the future, from sustainable to surreal.

GOOGIE

Director: Jake Gorst
Duration: 59 mins
Year: 2026

Emerging in mid-20th century Los Angeles, Googie transformed coffee shops, bowling alleys, banks, churches and car washes into futuristic icons, influenced by visionary architects such as Frank Lloyd Wright and John Lautner, and propelled into the commercial mainstream by firms like Armet & Davis.

Though many landmarks have been lost, a growing preservation movement now recognises Googie as a vital and distinctly American expression of modern design, a legacy this film celebrates through the voices of leading historians and cultural commentators.

PRICKLY MOUNTAIN AND MY DESIGN / BUILD LIFE

Directed by Allie Rood
Duration: 93 mins
Year: 2025/6
Documentary

In the late '60s and '70s, a group of architects landed in Vermont with big ideas and a simple plan: to stop just designing buildings and start making them. Drawing from Bauhaus ideals but rejecting the rigidity of academia, they built by hand, embraced mistakes, and turned architecture into a wild, creative experiment.

Director Allie Rood grew up in the middle of it all, playing in half-finished houses. Years later, she picks up a camera to trace the movement's history, only to find herself building a house of her own.

BRUNO MORASSUTTI – THEME AND VARIATION

Director: David Maffei
Duration: 80 mins
Year: 2025
Subtitles
Documentary

Bruno Morassutti was a cultured and intellectually rigorous, yet understated figure in post-war Italian architecture. A former student of Giuseppe Samonà and Carlo Scarpa, Morassutti brought a deeply cosmopolitan sensibility to his work.

His early travels across the USA, documenting the works of Frank Lloyd Wright, Richard Neutra and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, shaped his lifelong interest in structural experimentation and prefabrication. Back in Italy, he worked with Angelo Mangiarotti, before starting his own studio.

Ruf's buildings are not only of outstanding quality but also remain relevant and contemporary. His stylish, elegant, open, and transparent architecture is, in the best sense, a continuation of Bauhaus modernism, which he interpreted in his own way, always with a deep respect for tradition.

Over the course of two years, a group of graduate students and their professor embarked on a journey to design and construct a new cutting-edge research station for a group of scientists studying penguins and seals in one of the harshest environments on the planet, Antarctica.

Transporting the material to the remote island also proves to be a daunting task as they must cross one of the most dangerous bodies of water, the Drake Passage. The extreme environments and abundance of wildlife set up the conditions for the adventure of a lifetime for the group.

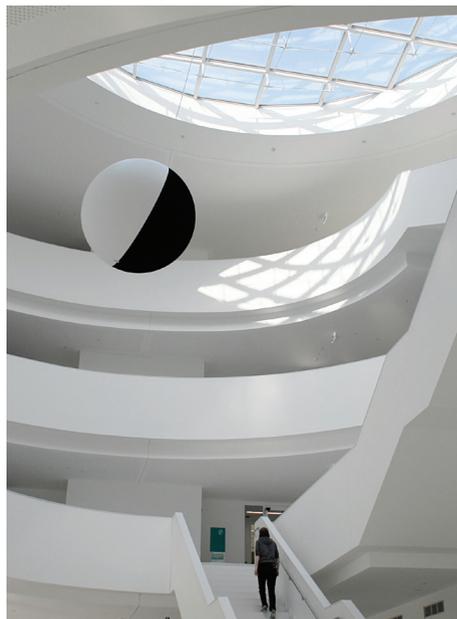

TRACING LIGHT

Director: Thomas Riedelsheimer

Documentary

Tracing Light explores the most fascinating of natural phenomena—light. The film brings together leading physicists and artists from Scotland, England and Germany on a quest to understand and animate light.

PETER HUJAR'S DAY

Director: Ira Sachs
Duration: 76 mins

Rating: PG
Feature, biographical drama

The photographer Peter Hujar, whose images exist in an important lineage and dialogue with the work of groundbreaking gay artists such as Robert Mapplethorpe and David Wojnarowicz, forms the centre of this dramatic feature film.

Based on rediscovered transcripts from an unused interview by Linda Rosenkrantz, in which she asked Hujar to narrate the events of the previous day in minute detail, the film is an illustration of the life of the creative mind, the quotidian and the imaginative at once, fully and lovingly inhabited by its two brilliant actors (Ben Whishaw and Rebecca Hall).

PARALLEL UNIVERSE:
THE ART AND DESIGN
OF ROY GOOD

Director: Craig Ray
Duration: 80 mins
Year: 2026
Documentary, local

Roy Good is a rare figure in New Zealand art: a painter, designer and spatial thinker who never separated disciplines. Influenced by Bauhaus and De Stijl, he embedded abstraction into popular television shows, national logos and shaped canvases alike.

Working from his small studio in the wilderness of West Auckland, he quietly pioneered one of the country's most consistent and original modernist practices. This insightful documentary reveals an artist of global significance, working from the edge of the world.

THE NEW MUSEUM

Director: Birgitte Sigmundstad
Duration: 113 mins
Year: 2025
Subtitles
Documentary

For over six years, filmmaker Birgitte Sigmundstad followed the creation of Norway's New National Museum, a monumental project that merged four institutions under one vast, temple-like roof designed by Kleihues + Schuwerk.

This rich, observational documentary offers an unvarnished look at the tensions that define an undertaking like this: curatorial debates, the logistical challenges of moving and storing vast collections, aesthetic and technical decisions, time and budget pressures, political backlash and evolving public expectations.

ADNAN BEING AND TIME

Director: Marie Valentine Regan
Duration: 70 mins
Year: 2025
Subtitles
Documentary

This expressionistic portrait of the great Etel Adnan (b. Beirut, 1925) documents the artist and poet over the last five years of her life. Adnan is working without ego, asking, what does it mean to be alive, to live through catastrophe, to experience time?

Close to Adnan in her daily life, in her studio, in her works, and in the natural world essential to her aesthetic and philosophic understanding, the film's form creates an experience of Adnan's radical quality of attention.

Curating Modernism looks at 20th century modern architecture in the United States and how it offers powerful opportunities for restoration, sensitive updates, and adaptive reuse so modernist structures can remain active participants in everyday life rather than static artefacts.
